

A rare visual feast!

Michael Poliza

EYES OVER AFRICA

Special offer: Reduced prices for readers of Village Life

Ever longed to spread your wings and see what Africa looks like from a bird's perspective? It was a life-long dream of Michael Poliza to take a helicopter journey over Africa recording what he saw along the way. This is the subject matter of his latest photographic treat, Eyes over Africa. The photographs – all taken from a perch high in the sky – show you just how awe-inspiring the continent of Africa really is: a rare visual feast. A visit to Michael's website will offer more stunning visuals and details of his Heli-Africa trip, <http://www.poliza.de/>.
